A regression model is a linear one when the model comprises a linear combination of the parameters, i.e., $y = \hat{a} + bx$, where the function is a function of x . Letting $y = f(x)$, we can then see that in that case the least square estimate (or estimator, in the context of a random sample), is given by $\hat{a} = \hat{a}$. For a derivation of this estimate see Linear least squares (mathematics).

Numerical analysis is the study of algorithms that use numerical approximation (as opposed to general symbolic manipulations) for the problems of mathematical analysis (as distinguished from discrete mathematics). Numerical analysis naturally finds application in all fields of engineering and the physical sciences, but in the 21st century also the life sciences, social sciences, medicine ...
